Nikita Makes Changes in Russian Rule

MOSCOW (AP)—On the recommendation of Premier Khrushchev, Leonid I. Brezhnev was relieved today of his post as Soviet president and Anastas I. Mikoyan was elected to succeed him.

Khrushchev told a meeting of the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet parliament, that Brezhnev is needed for full-time work in the Communist party.

The party is the seat of real power in the Soviet Union and Brezhnev is regarded as Khrushchev's heir-apparent.

Khrushchev said he wanted to express his cordial gratitude to Leonid Ilyich Brezhnev for his fruitful work as president. Brezhnev held the figure-head position for four years.

Mikoyan, who was relieved of his post as a first deputy premier, was wished success by Khrushchev.

Mikoyan said in the grand hall where Russia's leaders were crowned that "I will do my best to justify your confidence, to fight, to work for the victory of communism together with you."

AP News Digest THE GOP CONVENTION

Sen. Barry Goldwater, victorious in the party platform fight, prepares to lock up the republican presidential nomination on the first convention ballot tonight.

Eyeing his expanding delegate strength, Sen. Goldwater hopes toward the finish line so far ahead he isn't even winded.

As a new GOP presidential candidate joins their ranks, Republican standard bearers of the past are located across the land — from a Manhattan tower and Wall Street to San Francisco.

Accounting Procedures Reviewed

State Auditor Jimmie Jones was guest speaker before Hope Kiwanis Club Tuesday and reviewed accounting procedures and fiscal control systems as employed in his office at the state capitol.

Modern equipment and facilities are the best, Mr. Jones pointed out, and assured his audience that the office was being operated to a high degree of efficiency and service to the people.

Mr. Jones, a native of Magnolia, is unopposed for office this year. The program was arranged by Tom Ed Hays, Jr.

Dr. James Spring, associated with Branch Hospital, was a guest of the club, as was Walter Frazier of Abilene, Texas.

Police Probe Two Accidents

An auto driven by J.W. Strickland was hit from behind about 9:15 a.m. today on Highway 87, just inside the city limits. Driver of the second car was listed as Mrs. Betty Johnson of Joiner, Ark.

Officers Rowe and Jarvis of the City Police said Mr. Strickland was turning left off the highway and was hit by the Johnson vehicle. There was heavy damage to the Johnson auto. Nobody was injured and no charges were filed.

Also today in an alley behind Davis Funn, Store Ernest Davis parked his auto. When he went inside the store the vehicle rolled backward into a pickup truck owned by Mrs. Mary Johnson. There was considerable damage to the door of the pickup, City Police said.

Ignore Rights Act, Bennett Declares

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett reaffirmed Tuesday his statement that businessmen in Arkansas should ignore the Civil Rights Act until ordered by a federal court to comply with it.

"The big difficulty arises where the cafe, motel, beauty shop or barber has integrated his business, watched it go from bad to worse, only to see the law held unconstitutional. He won't get his business back," Bennett said.

Bennett said he believes the civil rights law will set off a boom in private club charters in Arkansas. He said he expects beauty shops and similar businesses to sell memberships to restrict their trade to white persons.

More Men Are Being Sent to S. Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reversing a cutback started last year, the United States will increase its military manpower in South Viet Nam by about 600 men during the next few months.

Nearly half of this figure will be additional Special Forces, made available to provide more U.S. advisers working in the field with South Viet Nam's regular army and to establish more special forces training units near the border between South Viet Nam and Laos.

Word of the U.S. manpower increase came along with new information on infiltration of North Vietnamese regular army personnel into the south.

The additions will raise the total of U.S. Special Forces in Viet Nam to about 1,000, and the total U.S. strength there to about 16,000 men.

Last fall, before a series of changes in the South Viet Nam government and a step-up in Viet Cong attacks, the United States had set out to cut back the number of U.S. military men stationed there. About 1,000 of the 16,500 then assigned were pulled back. The new contingents will replace part of that total.

It was understood the decision to send the additional men was reached before the assignment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff as ambassador to South Viet Nam and the elevation of Gen. William Westmoreland to head the U.S. military command there.

No figures were available on the extent of North Vietnamese infiltration into South Viet Nam. Robert McCloskey, State Department press officer, said there is a continuing influx of small groups of guerrillas and of Communist-made military equipment.

McCloskey said he could not confirm reports of either large-scale infiltrations of men or an increased flow of military supplies into the area.

McCloskey did say that equipment made in the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia and Communist China has been found in the northern mountains of South Viet Nam.

Pin in Lung 14 Years Is Removed

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Virginia Leavy, 37, attractive mother of two, had an open safety pin in her lung for 14 years but didn't know it.

Doctors at Pittsburgh's Mercy Hospital removed it and Tuesday Mrs. Leavy sat on the edge of her hospital bed and said she felt fine.

Mrs. Leavy, of nearby Greensburg, said she swallowed the pin in 1949 or 1950—"I'm not sure which"—while preparing her infant son for a trip.

"I held the open pin in my mouth for a minute while dressing him—you know, one of those small, gold-colored pins for ribbons and things," she said.

Then she swallowed it—still open. She tried to cough it up. She called a doctor, who told her not to worry as long as there was no pain.

Mrs. Leavy pursued an active life over the next years, swimming, playing badminton, hiking, doing housework and smoking.

Last month after a busy day she "suddenly felt something in my chest."

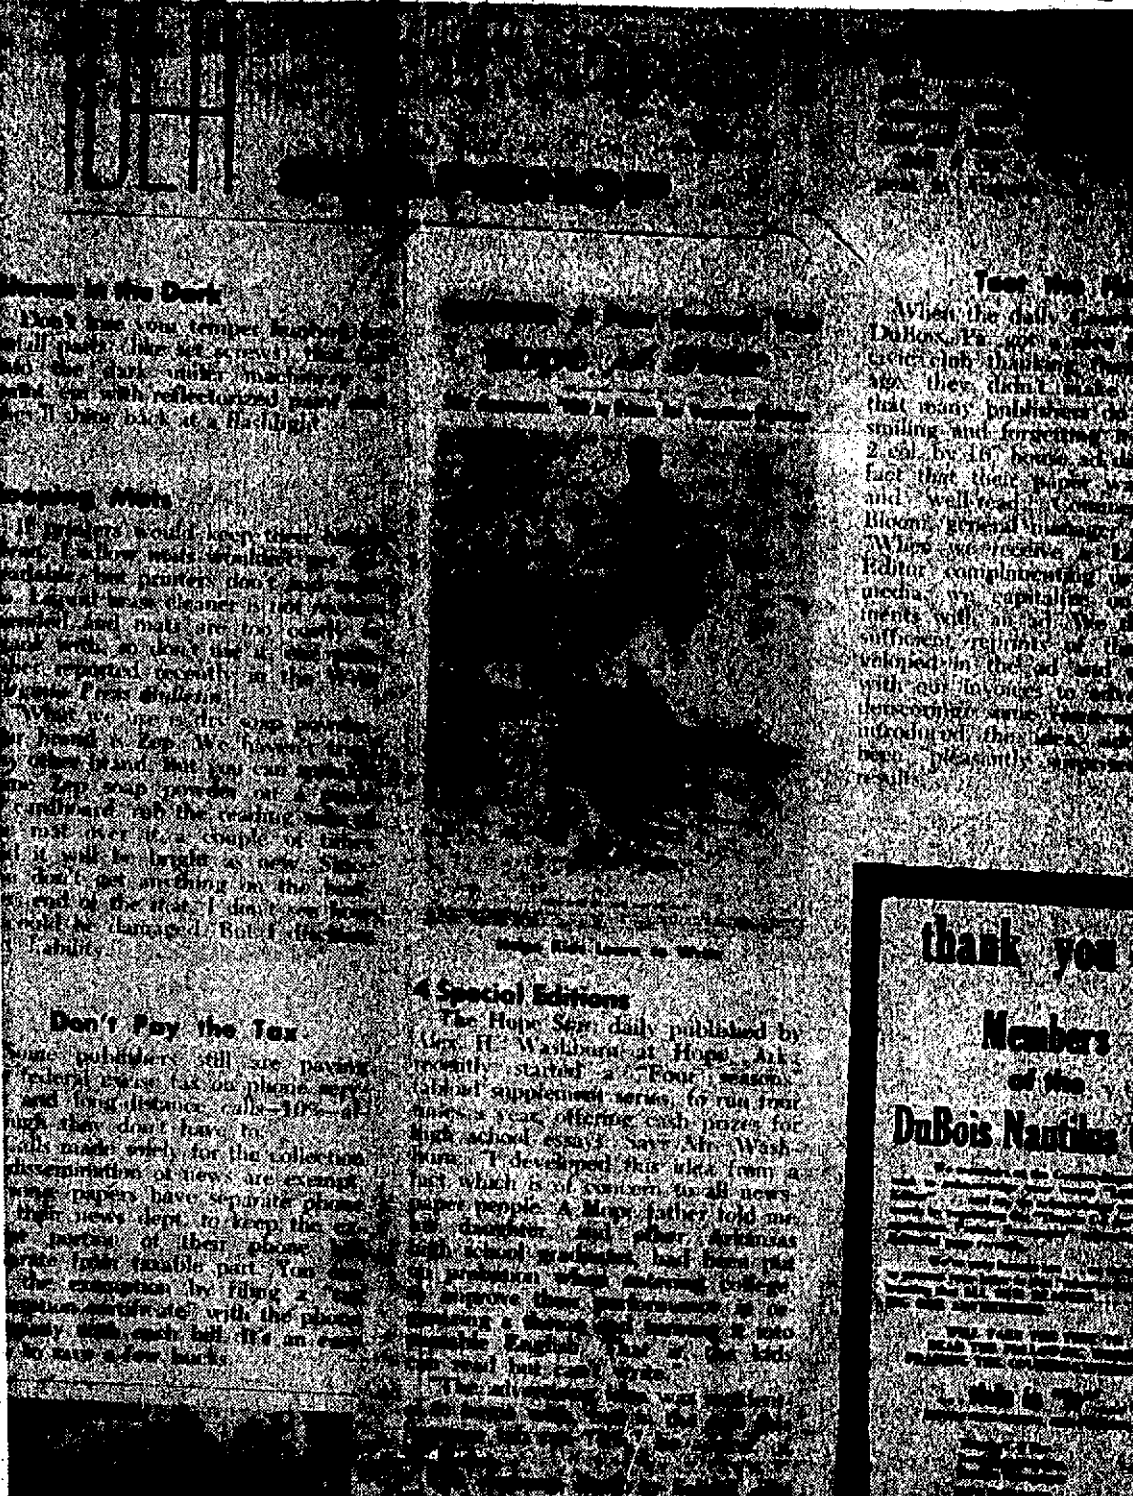

When she started coughing up blood she called her doctor. A chest X-ray followed and located the pin in her lung, still open.

At first, doctors passed a bronchoscope—a narrow, tube-like instrument—through her mouth and windpipe. The bronchoscope was monitored by television.

Aided by the bronchoscope, doctors reached into her lung with a special forceps. But the pin, which over the years had become embedded in tissue, wouldn't move. The head broke and was withdrawn.

That was a week ago. Monday they tried again and in a slow, painstaking maneuver brought the pin up. It was badly rusted.

BASED ON A LETTER FROM A. H. Washburn, Star publisher, outlining the upcoming Autumn edition of the Four Seasons Tabloid, American Press' article discusses the cash prizes which The Star will offer for school essays and letters to the newspaper in the Autumn issue, to appear in late August.

AMERICAN PRESS QUOTES THE Star publisher as follows: "I developed this idea from a fact which is of concern to all newspaper people. A father told me his daughter, and other Arkansas high school graduates, had been put on probation when entering college, to improve their performance in organizing a theme and turning it into passable English. That is, the kids can read but can't write."

Georgia Told to Avoid All Violence

ROME, Ga. (AP)—Sen. Richard B. Russell, who led the Southern fight against the new civil rights law, called on Georgians today to avoid all violence and to live with the new law "for as long as it is there."

"Violence and law violation will only compound our difficulties and increase our troubles," Russell said in a speech for the annual meeting of the Coosa Valley Area Planning and Development Commission.

"It is the understatement of the year to say that I do not like this statute," the senator said. "However, it is now on the books."

Russell said the constitutionality of some provisions will be tested but while it is being adjudicated, "all good citizens will learn to live with the statute and abide by its final adjudication even though we reserve the right to advocate by legal means its repeal or modification."

Russell led the Southern delegation which filibustered at length against the civil rights bill before finally being choked off by a debate-limiting cloture vote in the Senate.

"We put everything we had into the fight," he said, "but the odds against us mounted from day to day until we were finally gagged and overwhelmed."

Russell noted that he had been critical of "the growing disrespect for law and order generated by the campaign of civil disobedience by extremist groups."

"It is a form of anarchy to say that a person need not comply with a particular statute with which he disagrees,"

Goldwater Pilots Drive Toward 1st Ballot Win

By JACK BELL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater piloted his thundering campaign jet toward a first-ballot presidential nomination today after bombing out opposition to a GOP platform he personally endorsed.

With the Arizona senator's forces in complete command, the Republican National Convention Tuesday night rejected by overwhelming margins efforts of supporters of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton to amend a platform on which Goldwater said he would be satisfied to run against President Johnson in November.

Most significant of the actions was the 897-409 vote by which the sometimes noisy and milling delegates rejected a Scranton-backed proposal to amend a plank which promised implementation and execution of the Civil Rights Act.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., acted for Scranton in what could only be regarded as a last-gasp effort to provide some oxygen for the governor's fast-expiring challenge to Goldwater for the presidential nomination.

Scott proposed a substitute which would have added a pledge for enforcement of the new law—against which Goldwater voted—by an increased Justice Department staff. It also proposed invoking the 14th Amendment to reduce congressional representation of states which disenfranchise some citizens to vote.

The vote by which delegates battled down this proposal seemed to indicate that when they get around to choosing their nominee tonight Goldwater might exceed the necessary 655 count before the first call of the states even was completed.

An Associated Press survey showed that Goldwater headed into nomination day with 805 votes while Scranton had 169.

Scott, who engineered the losing platform fight, said there would be "no turning back" so far as Scranton is concerned. He predicted the governor will go down to the balloting wire, despite the obvious odds against him.

At one point Tuesday, Scranton said: "It isn't so much a question of whether we win as that we demonstrate to all America that there are persons in our party who do feel this way."

Goldwater, commenting through an aide on the developments, said: "The Republican convention is reflecting the conservative majority in the Republican party."

As matters stood, it was the consensus of his associates that Goldwater would tab Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the GOP national chairman, as his vice presidential running mate. Miller had strong support from New England, Illinois, North Carolina, Arkansas and Mississippi delegates.

The Arizona senator was expected to pick Denison Kitchel, his campaign director, as national chairman to succeed Miller.

In a session lasting past midnight, the convention rejected a total of five proposals to amend the platform and delegates shouted their approval of the draft.

Two amendments dealt with what their sponsors called political extremism, two were in the field of civil rights and a fifth was aimed at Goldwater's suggestion that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization commander be given more supervision over the use of small nuclear weapons to repel attack.

Scranton's 3 Proposals Are Badly Beaten

By LEWIS GULICK

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Republican convention has soundly trounced three key planks by Gov. William W. Scranton challenging the party platform favored by backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The critical roll-call vote of 897 to 409, rejecting a Scranton civil rights proviso, pointed toward the expected outcome today when the delegates vote directly on whom they want for their presidential nominee.

There was no doubt during three hours of debate and voting Tuesday night that the contest was a preview of today's nomination clash. Scranton has keyed his campaign right along to contrasting his "moderate Republicanism" with Goldwater conservatism.

In carrying to the convention floor motions to broaden the platform's civil rights plank, to denounce alleged extremism and to reaffirm the president's sole control over nuclear weapons, the Pennsylvaniaian was appealing to the party's court of last resort and hoping some delegates would switch to him.

A Scranton spokesman had called this a contest for the soul of the Republican party.

But his 2-1 roll-call defeat came by about the same margin as his earlier setback in the 100-man committee which drafted the platform last week.

The convention rejected by uncounted standing votes the Scranton planks on extremism and atomic control. It also threw out in similar voting planks offered by Michigan Gov. George Romney on civil rights and extremism.

Scranton trotted out his heaviest artillery for his last-ditch platform fight. Former Secretary of State Christian A. Herter sponsored the nuclear provision. New York State Assembly Speaker Joseph Carlino launched the civil rights provision.

Leading off for Scranton was New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who served up the plank on extremism. Scranton contends that the right-wing John Birch Society is trying to take over the Republican party and is supporting Goldwater's candidacy as a means of gaining control.

Scranton broadened his plank at the last moment, adding the Communists and the Ku Klux Klan to the John Birch Society as "extremist groups" to be repudiated by the party.

His words downed out at times by shouts of "We want Barry," Rockefeller called on the delegates to denounce any "doctrinaire, militant minority" which would subvert the GOP "to purposes alien to those which gave this party birth."

Hope Legion Group Wins State Awards

For the second consecutive year the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 12 in Hope received more awards than any of the other 148 units in Arkansas at the 43rd state convention held in Little Rock June 9-12. Under the leadership of Mrs. Frank King, president, Hope Unit 12 received four plaques for outstanding auxiliary work.

The awards and the committee chairmen responsible for winning them were: radio and TV, Mrs. Joe Jones; community service, Mrs. Cecil Weaver; poppy, Mrs. E. F. Formby; Western Division 12th District membership, Mrs. Charles Taylor. Mrs. Joe Jones, publicity chairman, received second place for publicity.

In the Junior Activities the Hope Unit 12 Juniors placed first in the doll dressing contest and the scrap book. Douglas Byrd won first in the poppy poster contest. The radio station manager Mike Award went to radio station KXAR. These entries are eligible for national competition.

Mrs. Joe Jones, member of the state Junior Activities committee, local Junior Activities chairman, radio and TV chairman, and publicity chairman, was elected a delegate from District 12 to the national convention at Dallas in September.

B. C. Hollis, Hope Post 12 Legionnaire of 1964, was honored at the Go-Getters Banquet on Saturday night, July 11. Those having secured 100 or more new members became a Century Go-Getter, and Hollis earned the title by getting 123. Also attending the banquet were Judge Advocate Talbot Feild, Jr. and daughter, Cathy, and Mrs. Joe Jones. Mrs. Jones had secured more than 10 new members.

Whitten Family Plans Reunion

The annual Whitten family reunion, which alternates between south Arkansas and west Texas locations, will be held this year at Red Springs, Tex., near Seymour on July 25-26. Last year it was in Prescott, and in other years it has been in Texarkana and El Dorado.

An official for the reunion states that all members of the family, its several branches, and friends are invited to attend. Meals will be served both days and accommodations will be provided for visitors on Saturday night.

Organized in the 1940's, the reunion centers around the descendants of the late William Riley and Nora Hill Whitten of Laneburg (Nevada County), whose forbears came to the Louisiana-Arkansas area prior to 1850. These annual reunions are usually attended by several hundred persons from as many as seven different states.

THE TURNCOAT

By Herman A. Tinner

Catherine Symington was tall, stout, stately. Her pepper-salt hair, coiffured in a prominent upsweep, suggested queenly dominance. With head held high, she stiffly strode across her sumptuous living-room peering through a pince-nez at her abstract oil paintings.

A white-haired, short and frail man, in butler's garb, materialized from nowhere. He inquired in bass voice: "Did you ring, Madam?"

"Yes, Carson. Did my husband go to work this morning?"

"No, Madam. Mr. Symington didn't go to the bank. He stubbed his toe and is—ah—tied one on."

"How devastating! He's due for promotion to assistant manager. Now he'll wait another 10 years."

"Begging your pardon, Madam, I hear front door chimed."

"Don't bother, I'll answer it. In the meanwhile, have Mimi prepare lobster-thermidor for lunch."

"Very good, Madam!"

Marching forward in Sherman tank style, Catherine Symington opened the front door. Her eyebrows lifted skyhigh as she viewed a shabby unshaven stranger whose bony elbows stuck from jacket sleeves.

"Beggars do not approach the front door. They present themselves at the rear," she bellowed.

The shabby man's face pictured complete astonishment as he said, "Why Kate, don't you remember me? I'm your long lost brother-in-law, William."

"For the present, I'll disregard Chester's tragic relationship. You'd better use the rear entrance. If I allow you to enter here, I shall be forced to use strong disinfectants. Regardless I feel democratic this morning. I'll talk to you on back porch."

William ambled around the house to the back porch where he sat down on a wooden box. Mrs. Symington squished hen-like until comfy on a cushioned wicker chair.

"You know, Kate, it's been 20 years since we last met. I've been living in South America."

"You're the proverbial rolling stone," she grated.

"With a little help, I'll be back on my feet, Kate."

"Refrain from calling me Kate," she snapped. "Familiarity breeds contempt. I'm cooing with the latter. What sort of help do you need?"

"When I see Chester, I'll talk to him."

"Might as well talk to a stone wall. I do my husband's thinking."

"He's my brother. He'll see me through," said William.

"Not if I have anything to say."

"I only need a few dollars for food and lodging."

Her voice was frigid as she said, "No money but I'll give you yesterday's left-overs. You may eat on the porch. You can sleep in attic of garage."

William jumped to his feet. Bewildered covered his face. "I don't get it," he said. "You have this mansion, a flock of ha a bank position."

The grey-haired woman seemed to shrink, her shoulders sagged. "To be truthful," she said in a meek apologetic voice, "we've blocked off upstairs portion of house. As for the cars and servants, our credit is good."

"But Chester earns big money at the bank."

"No, he doesn't," she corrected. "Our neighbor aren't aware of our calamity. He receives, as a senior clerk, a school teachers salary."

"Heaven above! How deplorable! Chester a mere senior clerk! I don't get it," said William aghast.

"The truth is, he was a vice-president of the bank at 25 thousand a year. He sponsored young candidate for mayor and bank board dogged him. Now we are pretenders," she confessed. "My butler receives pension from army. Now and then he buys me rare tid-bits. My chauffeur does moonlighting and helps me out too."

"Kate, I too must confess. I've been misleading you," said William.

"These threadbare clothes are a disguise. Actually, I'm extremely wealthy. I don't wish to repeat an old cliché, but the rich get richer and poor get poorer."

His hand flew to inner jacket pocket, withdrawing slip of paper, which he handed to Catherine Symington.

"It's not nonsense but a gift from the heart," he said. "This check will pay all your debts and keep you and Chester in grand style for the rest of your lives."

The elderly woman accepted the check, eyed its amount, gasped, screened William narrowly and screamed wildly "You beast! You must take me for an imbecile. As you know, I am penniless and live in a fool's pa-

Pension for Farmers, Says Khrushchev

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev today announced old age pensions for collective farmers and pay raises for doctors, teachers and employees in housing and service industries.

Khrushchev said the farmers' pension measure, affecting about 6.5 million peasants, was of "tremendous historical importance." Most of them have been outside the pension system.

In a speech at the opening of the summer session of the Supreme Soviet, or Parliament, Khrushchev said the agricultural position had improved so that farmers can now be brought under the system.

The pension plan described by few months back.

The money supply greases the ways for consumer purchases, business spending, and gives the banks the lendable funds for expansion plans.

Khrushchev envisions minimum monthly payments of $13.20 and a maximum of $112.20 beginning next year.

The payments, however, were tightly hitched to wage levels reached before retirement age 65 for men and 60 for women.

"Let every person know that if he works well today, he will be better provided for in his old age," Khrushchev said.

"Such an approach is in the interests of the collective farmers and in the interests of the entire Soviet society."

Khrushchev announced average wage increases of 25 per cent for workers in education, 23 per cent in public health, 25 per cent in retail trade and 15 per cent in retailing and housing and municipal services.

The increases will begin with public service workers in October and all will be in effect in all categories by the end of 1965, said Tass, the Soviet news agency.

Khrushchev declared real income of the Soviet people has risen 61 per cent in the past decade. But he said not enough is being done to satisfy public demand for consumer goods.

He called for greater efforts to increase production of such goods. Khrushchev said that improv-

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—The extent to which defense contractors provide parties, gifts and other special activities for their employees at government expense will be studied at a public hearing next week.

Rep. Porter Hardy, D-Va., said the House Armed Services subcommittee for special investigations will start hearings Tuesday, looking into expenses charged under cost-plus and ing the living standards of the people is the most important problem for the Soviet Union.

The premier reported that half of the Soviet working people have high school education or better. More than 30 per cent of the national income is spent on education, he said.

Khrushchev scorned Western speculation about agricultural failure in the Soviet Union last year.

Although 12 million tons of grain were purchased abroad he said, this was only testimony to the strength of the economy. Measures are being taken to increase agricultural production, he said.

other types of government contracts.

Defense procurement regulations permit reasonable costs to employers for employee morale and recreational expenditures. Hardy said, adding the committee wants to find out how the regulations are being interpreted and applied.

Some defense contracts appear to exercise restraint in passing on such costs to the government," Hardy said, but "others seem as concerned about the costs as a profligate traveling salesman with a pocketful of credit cards."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government spent less during the fiscal year which ended June 30 than the $98.3 billion dollars which was the last official estimate, Budget Director Kermit Gordon informed President Johnson. He didn't tell newsmen how much less.

To a question, he said it "might be a good assumption" that the budget deficit also will be smaller than the last estimate, which was $8.8 billion.

Final figures are being compiled, he said, and may be ready for announcement by the end of the week. Johnson told a news conference last week he expected the final figures to Francis Keppel, U.S. commissioner of education, said a limited number of school people would be called to Washington soon to discuss school integration and means of carrying out the 1964 Civil Rights Act. He said Johnson will urge broader compliance with the Supreme Court's 1954 school desegregation decree.

Business Is Now Finding More Money

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen making their own evaluation of the state of business are noting today three trends:

—The supply of money is expanding faster again after a slowdown earlier in the year.

—Inventories that had been rising fast have taken a tumble.

—Retail sales have eked out only a slim increase but still enough to set a high.

The larger money supply is expected to act as a spur to the economy. The inventory cut is considered as removing, at least for a time, a potential danger watched in any prolonged business upswing. And the retail sales advance, slim as it was in radise. I feast on dreams of grandeur and receive the deepest devotion, respect and sympathy from those who surround me." She tore the check to shreds and added, "And that's the way I like it."

June, is dubbed a how of continuing confidence by the consuming public which can bolster the life expectancy of the business expansion.

Government officials and corporate executives have stressed other phases of the economy: record industrial production, employment and personal incomes; bullish sentiment in the stock market; and record earnings.

But the dollars-and-cents nature of inventories, sales and money supply affects the daily health of business and gives a glimpse of the future.

The Federal Reserve Board puts the money supply at $155.9 billion at the end of June, compared with $153.2 billion in December. The supply is arrived at by adding demand deposits and currency outside banks.

Under the board's fairly easy money policy for the last three years, the money supply had been going up steadily—by 3.7 per cent last year. The rate slowed this year with May standing at $154.5 billion. The sizable increase in June brings the growth rate this year to around 3 per cent.

Some businessmen feel the June gain is due to a caeter money policy of late, after a slight lessening of the ease a

The monthly Potluck and Cards entertainment will be held at the Hope Country Club on Saturday, July 18 beginning at 7 p.m. Hosts are: Mr. and Mrs. Brack Schenck, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stewart, Miss Mary Roy Moses, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Whitworth, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Russell.

Monday, July 20
Wesleyan Service Guild No. 2 will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, July 20 in the home of Guild President, Mrs. Hinton Davis. All members and those interested in joining this organization of business women in the Methodist Church are cordially invited.

Circle 5, WSCS, of the First Methodist Church will meet Monday, July 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Monty W. Mciver, as co-hostess. Donald Sue Huddleston will have charge of the program.

Good Neighbor Club Meets

The Evening Shade Good Neighbor Club met Thursday, July 9 with Mrs. Vernon McMurtry.

Mrs. McMurtry gave the lesson on survival in case of bomb attack. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by 10 members. The club will have their annual picnic in August.

Melrose H D Club

The Melrose Home Demonstration Club met with the president, Mrs. A. C. Kirby, on Tuesday, July 14. "Ideas for a Picnic Tablecloth" was the eye opener, which Mrs. Sam Betts brought. All joined in singing "It Is No Secret."

For the devotion the hostess read James 4:4-8, and Mrs. Bettie Emberton voiced a prayer. Mrs. Virgil Huckabee gave the lesson, "Family Living in the Shelter." Eight members answered the roll call with a household hint, and Mrs. Kirby had a routine business meeting. "Family Life Highlights" were the notes brought by Mrs. Lyle Allen, Human Relations Leader. The meeting was closed with all repeating the Club Creed.

During the social hour games were played, and Mrs. Allen on the door prize. Ice cold watermelon was served to the members and two guests, Mrs. H. D. Conine of Little Rock and Mrs. Emberton, Home Agent. The August meeting will be at Fair Park.

Bridesmaid Luncheon For Hale-Crain Wedding

Before the wedding of Miss Jeanie Hale of Marion and Steve Crain of Hope on Saturday, July 11, the future bride was entertained with a Bridesmaid Luncheon on Friday, July 10 in the home of Mrs. John Stephens of Marion with Mrs. L. P. Mann, co-hostess.

Miss Hale wore white organza and pinned a white bridal corsage at her shoulder. The delicious meal was served at four quartet tables, each with a tiny mixed bouquet in the center. The guests included Mrs. Louis E. Crain of Hope, mother of the future bridegroom.

A gift of china was presented to the honored guest by the hostesses.

Rehearsal Dinner For Hale-Crain Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Crain of Hope were hosts for the rehearsal dinner for the Hale-Crain wedding party on Friday evening, July 10 at the Meadowbrook Country Club in West Memphis. The bride-elect, Miss Jeanie Hale of Marion, wore a white sheath dress with matching jacket and a corsage of blending hues.

Pink and white floral decorations were used on the serving tables where covers were laid for 30. Miss Hale and her fiancé, Steve Crain of Hope, chose this time to present gifts to their attendants.

Judging Tonight in Pageant

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Judging begins tonight in the Miss Arkansas Pageant here, with the Miss Arkansas parade through downtown Hot Springs as a pageant prelude.

Each of the 44 contestants, dressed in evening gowns, was to ride in an open-topped car in the parade.

Miss Arkansas 1964 will be named Saturday night. The contestants visited the state's capital Tuesday to appear on an annual television preview of the big show.

The program was taped Tuesday and the girls returned here to watch the program.

Judging will be in three divisions — evening gown, swimsuit and talent — tonight, Thursday night and Friday night. Preliminary winners were announced only in swimsuit and talent divisions.

SIDE GLANCES

By Gil Fox

"This party we're going to, Ginny—are you sure it's a tight-girdle affair?"

"DEAR ABBY"

END THE TREATMENT, LADY!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: My husband got a post card from the post office asking him if he wanted to KEEP his post office box I never knew he HAD a post office box, so I asked him a few questions, such as, why he needed a post office box.

His answers didn't make much sense so I knew he was hiding something. I finally got it out of him that he had met a young woman while he was away on a business trip last year. He said there was nothing serious between them, they just wanted to correspond with each other. He said she was a "Nice" girl who was married, but not happily. He promised he would never write to her again. He has really tried awfully hard to make it up to me ever since, Abby. Divorce is not in my vocabulary, and I really love the guy. How much longer should I make him sleep on the couch?

DISILLUSIONED

Dear Disillusioned: Invite him in tonight. You have both suffered enough.

Dear Abby: My mother-in-law has the habit of saying, "Our son's this and our son's that." The house is Robert's, the children are Robert's, and everything is Robert's. I heard her telling a neighbor about "Robert's wedding," so I stepped in and said, "Excuse me, Mother dear, but MY father paid for it." Then she laughed and said, "Yes but Robert has been paying ever since." I am so sick of hearing references to Robert alone, as though he had no wife, that I was just about ready to give him back to her. What can I do about a situation like this?

READY TO BURST

Dear Ready: Make up your mind that you will not permit anything she says to get you down, or the ulcer you develop will be your own.

Dear Abby: I am a 33-year-old man with a better-than-average education. All my friends are married and I have been looking for a wife. I have gone with any number of fine young women who have had all the qualities I desire in a wife, but the moment they show any interest in me I lose all interest in them. Is there something wrong with me? There is an old saying, "The fruit at the top of the tree—beyond one's reach—selfless, under-paid teacher."

I'm James Francis, the well-paid actor. Through letters and daily personal contact with educators who work with the "Mr. Novak" show, all of us—the cast, the production crew, the writers—have a powerful new awareness of the educator's urgent role in our culture.

The plaudits belong to John Novak—to the John Novaks and the Jane Novaks in big schools and little schools all across the country.

tered that the party should dispose of any extremism by meeting it "head on . . . with better ideas—with Republican principles," rather than any resolution which denies extremists the right to exist.

The climax came with the civil rights fight. Goldwater voted against the 1964 law on grounds it was unconstitutional.

Scranton's plank spoke of the federal government's "constitutional responsibility" to assure civil rights, called for "enforcement" of the 1964 law—the platform pledges for "full implementation and faithful execution" and added a number of other provisions including a demand for first-step compliance within one year by schools which have not yet complied with the 1954 Supreme Court school desegregation decision.

The Scranton plan also proposed enforcement, for the first time in history, of the 14th Amendment, penalizing cutting a state's House representation in proportion to its denial of voting rights of qualified citizens.

Carling urged the delegates to adopt the plank so that the party "would not have to apologize for its heritage."

Former Nebraska Gov. Robert B. Crosby defended the existing plank as "a dignified, solid affirmation of the highest concepts of human equality."

Despite the spirited debate, there was little doubt from the moment the roll call began who had the votes. Also downed handily was a simpler civil rights amendment offered by Romney, promising "action at the state, local and private levels to eliminate discrimination."

—A $202-million yearly increase in military pay recommended last week by the Senate Armed Services Committee. It would provide a 2½ per cent raise in base pay for military personnel of all ranks except enlisted personnel with less than two years service.

—A foreign aid authorization bill which must be passed before separate money bill to finance it.

—Two more of the annual appropriations which supply operating funds to the numerous government departments and agencies for the fiscal year which began July 1. They provide money for Congress and its related activities and for the District of Columbia.

Arkansas Lay Leader Steps Out

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Harry G. Barr of Fort Smith, Ark., stepped down here Tuesday as president of the 140,000-member International Lutheran Laymen's League at its 47th anniversary convention. He was succeeded by Robert W. Hirsch, 48, an attorney and state senator from Tripp, S. D.

Ouachita Ferry

VICKSBURG, Miss. (AP)—The Vicksburg District of the Army Engineers said it is considering an application by the Arkansas Highway Department for a ferry across the Ouachita River at Moro Bay. The project would include landings for the ferry and ferry equipment consisting of a barge pushed by a motor vessel.

Congress Faces Full Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP)—Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said today the Senate "must get into high gear and stay here" if members of Congress hope to adjourn the week-end of Aug. 22.

But he referred with elation to the pace the Senate has set in the three weeks since it finished a 15-weeks debate on civil rights, and expressed confidence that goal will be met. The Democratic National Convention meets in Atlantic City, N.J., starting Aug. 24.

Both the Senate and House are in recess this week while most Republican members are in San Francisco for the Republican convention. Both houses will reconvene next Monday.

Mansfield, who as Democratic leader supervises the flow of legislation through the Senate has picked half a dozen bills for Senate action next week.

Topping the list is a controversial antipoverty measure asked by President Johnson with a first-year cost of $962.5 million.

Among Republicans already publicly opposed to it is Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., the indicated GOP standard bearer.

Mansfield also listed these measures for Senate consideration in the first post-convention week:

—A $202-million yearly increase in military pay recommended last week by the Senate Armed Services Committee. It would provide a 2½ per cent raise in base pay for military personnel of all ranks except enlisted personnel with less than two years service.

—A foreign aid authorization bill which must be passed before separate money bill to finance it.

—Two more of the annual appropriations which supply operating funds to the numerous government departments and agencies for the fiscal year which began July 1. They provide money for Congress and its related activities and for the District of Columbia.

Yogi Terms Game Most Exciting

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - "This had to be the most exciting game of the year. I don't ever remember being as nervous as I was in that ninth inning."

This was Yogi Berra's reaction after taking time to settle his nerves following Tuesday night's 4-3 squeaker over Baltimore that moved the New York Yankees to within two points of the first place Orioles.

That ninth inning left even staid Yankees, who are supposed to be accustomed to such things, spent from excitement. "One game is no more important than the next," said Cleve Boyer, who contributed a fielding gem in that dramatic inning. "But it was a must game for both teams. It could turn out to be the most important game of the year."

"I don't remember a game this year I wanted to win as much as this one," said Mickey Mantle, who scored the winning run in the eighth. "All the guys were keyed up for this one."

Al Downing, the young Yankee lefty, carried a one run edge into the ninth. He fanned Gino Cimoli but walked Jerry Adair. Pinch hitter Boog Powell blooped a low fly some 60 feet from the plate along the third base line. Boyer, playing deep, charged in and made a spectacular sliding catch, grabbing the ball inches above the ground. Two were out.

But Downing walked Jackie

Cards Down Dodgers and Giants Lose

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ron Perranoski, the Dike-Plugg of the Year in 1963, apparently has run out of fingers. One victory shy of the .500 mark and one out from reaching it, the defending world champion Los Angeles Dodgers were beaten Tuesday night on a two-run pinch-hit single by Bob Skinner that capped a four-run ninth inning uprising and gave the St. Louis Cardinals an 8-7 victory.

And once again, Perranoski, who last year at this time was standing National League batters on their ears en route to a 16-3 record, wound up standing under the showers. The 27-year-old left-hander put down one uprising in the eighth, but failed in the decisive ninth.

Walks to Curt Flood and Dick Groat and a single by Ken Boyer gave the Cardinals a run and when Perranoski ran the count on Bill White to 3-0, out he came. Bob Miller completed the walk, Mike Shannon bounced out as a run scored and then Skinner slapped his game-winning hit.

The loss was charged to Perranoski, who has made 36 appearances this season and been in 24 losing games while compiling a 4-5 record with a mediocre 3.52 earned run average. Last year at this stage, he had made 34 appearances and been in 18 winning games with a 9-2 record and a brilliant 1.80 ERA.

The victory was the fifth straight of the Cardinals, who in five days have chopped 3½ games off their deficit and climbed to within 7½ games of front-running San Francisco in the tightening NL pennant struggle.

The Giants went down to an 8-7 defeat at Milwaukee as the Braves rode home runs by rookie Rico Carty and veteran Eddie Mathews to their 12th victory in the last 17 games. The Giants, however, retained their one game lead over Philadelphia, 4-3 losers at Pittsburgh.

Third-place Cincinnati closed to within 5½ of the top by sweeping Houston 6-5 in 11 innings and 10-3 and Chicago Cubs defeated the New York Mets 4-2.

In the American League, the second-place New York Yankees whipped first-place Baltimore 4-3, the Chicago White Sox downed Boston 4-2, Washington edged Minnesota 4-3, Cleveland walloped Kansas City 9-7 and Detroit nipped the Los Angeles Angels 4-3.

Sandy Koufax, seeking his 10th straight victory and 14th of the season, started for the Dodgers and batterymate John Roseboro helped build a 5-0 lead by driving in three runs with three singles.

But home runs by Shannon and White cut the deficit before the Cardinals struck or two runs in the eighth and chased Koufax as Manager Walt Alston waived in Perranoski to plug the dike.

Carty and Mathews slugged their homers in the sixth inning as the Braves bombarded 12-game winner Juan Marichal for five runs. After Mathews con-

Rodgers Dips to Second in French Open

CHANTILLY, France (AP) — "It's a beautiful course," Phil Rodgers said after he dropped a 20-foot birdie putt on the 12th hole and went three under par on the second round of the French Open Golf Tourney.

Six holes later he was talking to himself. "I never saw such a tough course," the La Jolla, Calif. pro muttered Tuesday on the 18th hole of the 6,722-yard Chantilly Course, and lost his lead to Argentine veteran Roberto DeVicenzo.

DeVicenzo, who won the French Open in 1950 and 1960, shot a six-under 65 to break Rodgers' day-old course record and took a one-stroke lead into today's third round.

The Argentine had a 36-hole total of 134 while Rodgers, the chunky Californian who is not eligible for the PGA Championship, had a 69 to go with his opening round 66 for a 135 and a tie for second with 21-year-old Cobie Lagrange of South Africa after two rounds.

Guy Wolstenholme of Britain and Ted Ball of Australia followed with 137s.

Rodgers appeared to be in command until he three-putted the 15th and finished the back nine with an even par.

Mathews homered, his 12th this season, was No. 43 of his career and broke a tie with the Giants' Willie Mays for eighth place on the all-time list.

Cal McLish, who had been on the disabled list, made his first start for the Phillies and failed to survive the first inning as Manny Mota smacked a single, Roberto Clemente doubled and Jerry Lynch singled.

Leading 2-0, the Pirates won it in the fifth by pushing across two more runs on an infield hit by Mota with the bases loaded and a grounder by Roberto Clemente that drove in winner Bob Veale.

The Reds scored three runs in the opener on wild pitches, two on consecutive heaves by Larry Yellen and the third in the 11th when Hal Woodeshick uncorked a wild one with the bases loaded that let in the deciding run.

The second game proved much easier against the Colts as the Reds slugged 16 hits, including homers by Frank Robinson and Mel Queen.

Dick Ellsworth won his 11th of the Cubs, despite a five-error third inning that enabled the Mets to score their only runs.

The Chicagoans pulled it out in the seventh with a three-run uprising on doubles by Dick Bertell and Andre Rodgers, Bill Owan's triple and a single by Joey Amalfitano. Ernie Banks' homer accounted for the first Cub run.

Lema's Talk Is Really All an Act

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio, (AP) —

Tony Lema puffed away nonchalantly on a cigarette, held at a rakish angle in a long, white holder.

"A little gift from the duke of Windsor in Paris," he said condescendingly, flicking ashes from his dark blazer.

Ken Venturi, the new U.S. Open champion, came into the locker room at the Columbus Country Club and tossed his shoes into a nearby stall.

"Oh, you must be the fellow who won that American tournament," Lema said, affecting a British accent.

Venturi, who grew up with Lema in the Golden Gate area around San Francisco, blinked.

This is golf's new glamor boy—sensational winner of the British Open last weekend, the most colorful figure to flash across the fairways since the incomparable Walter Hagen of the Golden Twenties.

The Haig was flashy and flamboyant. His sweaters were the fleeciest, the crease in his knickers the sharpest and his garb the most radiant on the tour.

A somewhat similar affluence and class are the trademarks of Tony Lema, the poor widow's son who escaped juvenile delinquency on the docks of the West Coast and came out of obscurity to attain a prominent niche in golf.

When he wins a tournament—and the's won four of his last six—he springs for champagne in the press room.

He uses a fancy cigarette holder, actually given him by the onetime King Edward of England last weekend. He talks fancy and puts on a big show, but it's all an act.

It's Lema's gimmick and a good one. "Actually, Lema is a hand some, modest young man, 30 years old, deep-set blue eyes, dark curly hair and a slim figure. He broke a thousand teenage hearts less than a year ago when he married an airline hostess, Betty Cline.

He is popular with his fellow pros. The gallery loves him and he is even making inroads into Arnie's Army.

And if he can add the PGA championship here this weekend, he may grab them all. He's that kind of guy.

Lema, who staved off a great challenge by Nicklaus in the British Open, said "I don't think I can get up for another big one so soon, but who knows? I'm in a trance. I don't practice. I just hit the ball. Everything I'm doing is right."

And Venturi, who took the Open to end three years of heartache and despair, said "I can't see anything but the flag. Somebody asked me why I keep shooting at the flag. I told him, 'That's where the holes are.'"

Proudest Moment, Says Mantle

NEW YORK (AP) — "I think this is the proudest moment of my life," Mickey Mantle said Tuesday.

The famed Yankee slugger's comment was not made after a home run or a game-winning hit. The setting was several miles from Yankee Stadium.

The place was the sixth floor of the new Dr. Harold R. Cronin Research Building at St. Vincent's Hospital.

The occasion was the dedication of the Mickey Mantle Research Laboratory for Hodgkins disease.

The laboratory is named after Mantle because he lent his name to a fund raising campaign for the establishment of the research center. Mantle's father died of the disease.

Those on hand for the ceremony included four other Yankees and doctors, nurses, and dozens of patients.

Pitcher-Coach Whitey Ford explained that the other Yankees couldn't come because they were resting for the big series with the Baltimore Orioles that started Tuesday night.

Mantle who usually prefers to listen rather than to talk, was not scheduled to speak. But he asked for the microphone to thank the people gathered and said "I think this is the proudest moment of my life."

Jr. Legion Takes Win at Camden

Hope's Junior Legion team last night went to Camden and returned home with a 12 to 10 victory in a high scoring contest.

The locals had two big innings. They scored six runs in the third on singles by Jordan and Henley and a double by Thrash and two walks and two errors.

Again the 4th Hope scored three runs on singles by Jordan and Burnett and a three run homer by McDowell.

Buddy Jordan was the winning pitcher in relief. Camden's Jordan was the loser.

Tonight at 7:30 the locals entertain the Texarkana Mixers starting at 7:30 at Legion Field.

Yankees Near Top With Win Over Orioles

The trouble with the Baltimore Orioles is they can't win those one-run ball games.

The trouble is only three days old but it's beginning to tell on the pennant-hungry Orioles. They dropped a 4-3 decision to New York Tuesday night in the opener of a vital three-game set and saw their American League lead dwindle to one-half game over the onrushing Yankees.

The Orioles suddenly have lost their touch in pressure game after reeling off 21 victories in their first 23 one-run contests. They were beaten twice by Detroit—each time by a 4-3 score in 10 innings—before Mickey Mantle, Tom Tresh and Al Downing collaborated for Tuesday night's Yankee victory before a New York crowd of 3,810.

Stu Miller, the wily junkman of the Baltimore bullpen, was the victim o eighth inning hits by Mantle and Tresh that broke a 3-3 tie and gave the Yankees their fifth straight triumph. Downing weathered a ninth inning storm and won his fourth in a row with a six-hitter.

Elsewhere in the AL, Juan Pizarro became the league's first 13-game winner as Chicago topped Boston 4-2; Washington nipped Minnesota 4-3; Detroit beat Los Angeles by the same score and Cleveland outlasted Kansas City 9-7.

St. Louis overtook Los Angeles 8-7; Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 4-3; Milwaukee surprised San Francisco 8-7; Chicago topped New York 4-2 and Cincinnati won a pair from Houston 8-5 and 10-3 in National League activity.

Mantle lined a single off Miller, making his 38th appearance in relief, with one out in the eighth. Mickey moved to second on a groundout and tallied the deciding run on Tresh's bloop hit to right.

Baltimore had tied the score in the seventh on two walks and Bob Johnson's record-breaking pinch hit single. The hit was Johnson's sixth straight as a pinch swinger, topping the AL mark previously shared by Johnny Mize, Vic Wertz and Bob Hale.

The Orioles scored single runs in the fourth and fifth innings. The Yankees bunched three of their six hits around a walk and infield out for three fourth-inning runs.

Baltimore loaded the bases with two out in the ninth on two passes and Luis Aparicio's infield hit but Downing got Norm Siebern on a fly to Mantle for the final out.

Pizarro held the Red Sox to five hits, including Dick Stuart's 18th homer, for eight innings and ran his record to 13-4 with last-inning help from knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm.

Run-scoring hits by Ron Hansen and Gerry McNertney gave the White Sox a 2-0 budge in the second inning and they added a pair of unearned runs in the third.

The Senators snapped a 3-3 tie in the fifth on Ed Brinkman's single, a two-base throwing error by Minnesota pitcher Jim Kaat and an infield out. Claude Osteen survived Harmon Killebrew's 32nd homer, a two-run shot, and picked up his seventh victory.

Detroit won its 12th game in 15 July starts, scoring the deciding run in the eighth on Gates Brown's double and Don Demeter's single. Demeter also homered and Bill Freehan collected three of 10 Tiger hits.

Home runs by Leon Wagner, Tito Francona and Woodie Held pushed Cleveland to a 7-3 lead over Kansas City but the A's fought back to tie in the eighth when Dick Green and Rocky Colavito homered and Ken Harrelson hit his second circuit of the game. Held's run-scoring single and Dick Howser's squeeze bunt won it for the Indians in the ninth.
